Parker Seating Debate To Open In Senate Monday

Indications Point To Sweeping Defeat For North Carolina Jurist

FRIENDS INSIST PARKER WITHDRAW

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 26.—Debate in the senate on the nomination of John J. Parker as an associate justice of the United States supreme court will begin on Monday with every indication pointing to defeat of the North Carolina jurist.
President Hoover has made and is still making strenuous efforts to overcome the opposition, but it appeared today that he has failed to make much progress.

Poll Predicts Defeat.
One poll, taken by a Republican leader and communicated to the White House, showed the senators ready to vote to reject the nomination. Several other polls showed a lesser total, but none of them offered any real hope that the North Carolina can be confirmed.

Rumors cropped up again today that the nomination might be withdrawn before Monday, but these rumors were strongly denied at the White House. President Hoover, it was said, has no intention of withdrawing the nomination, and moreover has expressed the wish that Judge Parker himself not take any initiative in this direction. Parker, it is understood, has sent word that he will "stick".

Thus, unless there is some miraculous missionary work done over the week-end, the stage seems set for senate rejection of a supreme court nominee for the first time in many years.

Opposition to Judge Parker, like that in the case of Charles Evans Hughes, has grown amazingly since the nomination was sent to the senate. It has had the characteristics of a snowball rolling down hill.

Strong Opposition.
Confined at first to a handful of labor leaders who resented his decision upholding the so-called "Yellow Dog" contract in the West Virginia mine fields, it spread to Negro organizations and so compelling has been the combined effect of these groups that more than half the senate is now aligned against the North Carolinian.

The vote on Parker will show party lines smashed to smithereens. Some of the most regular Republicans will be found voting against the administration and, conversely, some of the most consistent administration opponents will be found in the role of "standing by the president."

Mr. Hoover is going to have to rely chiefly on Democratic votes for his nominee. The regular Republicans from states which have large Negro populations are off the reservation completely.

SCHOOLS CONCLUDE MUSIC CONTESTS FRIDAY EVENING

played last and at the end of the competition New Castle was awarded the first prize plaque.

Two competitive meets were held in the Cathedral in the afternoon, one in the East Lodge Room, and one in the auditorium. In the East Lodge room, Mrs. William J. Caldwell acted as chairman of the day and here was heard some of the best choral competition of the entire meet.

In the Junior High School choral competition, three schools were entered, Roosevelt High of Erie, Benjamin Franklin Junior High of New Castle and George Washington Junior High of New Castle. The prayer from "Hansel and Gretel" was the compulsory number. Roosevelt High played first with Miss Helen Ellisworth directing.

Benjamin Franklin Junior High sang second, with Miss Esther Gibbons directing. George Washington Junior High School played last with Miss Elizabeth Owens directing. The results in this contest narrowly missed being a tie between Franklin and Washington. At first it was thought that the tabulation would show Washington ahead, but the totals gave the result to Franklin.

In the mixed choruses, there were but two entries, Benjamin Franklin Junior High and George Washington Junior High. "Bony Bonny" an old Irish air was the compulsory number and again the competition was keen, Franklin winning first place by a margin. The competition in this event was exceptionally good. Both of these junior high choruses are well trained and well balanced, and it was a pity that there was not more competition, that their real worth might have been more apparent.

Solo and Ensemble

Some of the solo and ensemble competitions listed for the Senior High School in the morning were not run off and were held in the east lodge room in the afternoon. The Trombone competition was won by Walter James of Oil City High School, with Donald Cloak of Ellwood City finishing second. Charles Graves of Sharon third, Paul McCurdy of New Castle fourth and Richard Wallace of Union township fifth.

The Brass Ensemble was won by Oil City's stringed quartet, with New Castle finishing second and Grove City finishing third. The Woodwind Ensemble was won by New Castle with Grove City second.

Class C Orchestra

Dr. W. L. Campbell was chairman of the day in the Cathedral Auditorium for the afternoon session and handled the Class C orchestra and band competitions. The first contest was that of Class C orchestras, with seven organizations competing. "Country Dance No. 1," by Beethoven was the test piece played. The order in which the orchestras finished follows:

First: Mars High School, Miss Katharine Laidly, directing.
Second: Evans City High School, I. B. Weinstein, directing.
Third: Union Township High School, Robert Duff, directing.
Fourth: Shenango Township High School, Prof. Charles G. Lindner, directing.

Fifth, sixth and seventh places were tied by North Beaver Township with W. H. McCullough directing; Bessemer High with Joe Martin directing, and Harrisville High School with Mrs. Lydia Hassler directing.

There was but one orchestra in Class D. Linesville playing alone in this class.

Class C bands saw some splendid renditions, with four bands competing. The order of the winners follows:

First, Parkers Landing, with I. N. Huffman, directing.
Second, Karns City, Fairview Township, with I. N. Huffman directing.

Third, Bessemer High with Joe Martin directing.
Fourth, Clarion High, with I. N. Huffman, directing.

In the Class B orchestra, there was but one entry, Titusville playing alone.

Erie School Wins

Academy high school of Erie carried away three bronze mounted tablets Friday afternoon from the local high school auditorium, indicating that Erie Academy vocal students are the best in northwestern Pennsylvania.

Erie Academy won first place in the class A contests of girls' chorus, boys' chorus and mixed chorus.

Grove City won second place in all three of the vocal contests. Central high school of Erie took third place in the girls' chorus and New Castle won fourth.

New Castle was third choice for the boys' chorus and for the mixed chorus.

The Erie Academy vocal contestants very obviously were better than the other competitors, even though Central Grove City and New Castle high schools had splendid choruses.

Class A vocal contest commenced at 1:30 p. m. The hundreds of students waiting to take part in this contest filled the large auditorium. They were all systematically seated and presented an attractive picture, each group wearing different design of clothing. The girls of one school wore white dresses and black ties, another school group was dressed in red and black outfits, while another school chorus was uniformed in blue and white.

The boys wore black coats and white duck trousers.

There was keen competition in the air. Each school was represented by unusually talented singers. Much credit goes to their directors and dressmakers.

Instrumental Contests

It was not until 4 o'clock that the class B instrumental contest took place. First on this part of the program was the junior high school orchestra, playing first with Miss Helen Ellisworth directing.

Roosevelt junior high school of Erie took first place in the class B orchestra demonstration. George Washington junior high school of this city was second and Benjamin Franklin junior high school won third place. The required selection was "At the Seaside."

George Washington junior high school was given the first prize in the class B band contest. Benjamin Franklin came in second.

Mrs. William J. Caldwell announced the various numbers and awarded the green and bronze tablets for the instrumental contests. Other members of the committee were Miss Sara Dinshaw, Miss Louise Crandall and Miss Elizabeth Constock.

The attractive tablets awarded to schools taking first place in the vocal and instrumental contests are fitting trophies, representing a goal of which to be proud. It also entitles these schools to compete in Philadelphia.

Solo Winners

Shortly after noon, Friday, announcement was made of the winners of the clarinet, cornet and trombone solo contests which were held in the morning at the senior high school auditorium.

Oil City, represented by Walter James, took first place in the trombone solo contest. Ellwood City, with Donald Cloak as representative, was second; Sharon, Charles Graves, third place; New Castle, Paul McCurdy, fourth place, and Union high, Richard Wallace, fifth place.

Sharonville was judged as best in the clarinet solo contest. Titusville came in second, Linesville third and Oil City fourth. There was a large number of competitors in this contest.

In the solo cornet playing, Oil City came out on top. This school was represented by Julia Goldman. New Castle was a close second, with Victor Rice; Evans City was third, Elton Williams; North Beaver was fourth, William Gougher; Grove City fifth, Richard Howe; Springboro sixth, Harold Benedict; tie for seventh between New Castle, Lawrence Conti, and Union, Robert Thompson; Evans City eighth, Samuel Cooper.

STAR LORE THINKING IN TERMS OF AN ASTRONOMICAL UNIT

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter

A term frequently used in astronomy is "astronomical unit." For the general reader it is important to know its meaning. We will state it and then define it. An astronomical unit is the semi-major axis of the earth's orbit. The earth's orbit around the sun is in the path of an ellipse (flattened circle). The major axis of the ellipse is its greatest diameter, and the semi-major axis is the average of the greatest and least distance of the earth from the sun. The earth varies in its distance from the sun as it passes around its elliptical path. The actual mean distance is 92,870,000 miles.

MURDER-SUICIDE VERDICT GIVEN IN TRAGEDY ON COAST

the tragedy occurred and listening to the brief testimony, a coroner's jury, of which Stephen Chalmers, author, was foreman, the jury returned a verdict of "murder and suicide."

In an effort to establish a motive for the murder and suicide, it was pointed out that Mrs. Post saw honors that were formerly hers slipping toward Mrs. Palmer, who slated to become manager of the Community Players, a position once held by Mrs. Post. Then, too, some of the younger hostesses in the colony omitted inviting Mrs. Post to social affairs while including the beautiful daughter of a wealthy Waukegan, Ill., family.

That Mrs. Palmer was chosen to portray leading roles in plays produced by the Community Players while she was relegated to the wings, is also thought to have contributed to the older woman's mental disturbance.

Filled With Remorse.
In reconstructing the tragedy, authorities advanced the opinion that Mrs. Post, realizing she was being supplanted by the younger woman, finally had an open break with her. They quarreled and Mrs. Post got her ivory-handled revolver and fired at her "best friend." The first shot evidently went wild. It was found lodged in the fireplace. The second struck Mrs. Palmer in the back, and then Mrs. Post fired again.

After slaying Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Post, apparently overcome with remorse, combed the dead woman's hair, cleaned her face and put a pillow beneath her head.

Sometime later, Mrs. Post made the decision that she too must die. So she put the barrel of the revolver in her mouth and pulled the trigger.

Prisoners Enter Pleas At Court, Are Sentenced

Andrew Morris and George Burton Each Given Sentences To Penitentiary

LIQUOR TRANSPORTER SENT TO WORKHOUSE

Two Ellwood City Boys Are Sent To Reform Schools And One Is Paroled

Pleas were taken and sentences passed at a session of court held this morning by Judges R. Lawrence Hillbrand and James A. Chambers.

Andrew Morris, for breaking and entering, was sentenced to not less than two nor more than six years to the Western penitentiary. Morris was arrested after he had broken into the home for nurses at the New Castle hospital. Word was sent to police headquarters and Morris was caught in the building.

George Burton, on a charge of sodomy, was sentenced to not less than four nor more than eight years to the Western penitentiary. Burton's sentence was severe on account of it having been his second offense.

James Dunlap, for transporting liquor, was given $300 fine and costs and one year to the Allegheny county workhouse, the sentence to date from February 19th, when he was placed in jail. It is claimed that about 35 gallons of liquor, which he had brought from Youngstown, was found in his car.

Charles George of Hog Hollow, was called up for sentence on a charge of operating a still. Questions developed that he had been out of work and that another man who owned the still had hired him a part of the time to operate it. A plea was made in his behalf on the grounds that he was not responsible for the still. Sentence was deferred while an investigation is made as to the owner of the still.

Steve Mondell, aged 16, Rocco Cusato aged 16 and Nick Yova, aged 20, all of Ellwood City, entered pleas to the larceny of an automobile. Questions developed the fact that the boys had taken the automobile with the intention of going to Florida. When they were near Zellenoople they collided with another machine and damaged the car in which they were riding to the extent of about $250. They then abandoned the car and were arrested in Fairfax, West Virginia.

Steve Mondell admitted that he had made the suggestion to steal an automobile in fun, but that the others had taken it up seriously. Mondell said that he could not operate a car, but that Nick Yova could. Yova was the only one of the three who could drive and was operating the car when the accident occurred.

Cusato admitted that he had been in trouble before in connection with the larceny of a bicycle, but that it had been settled out of court. He had also been in some other trouble. Yova admitted that he had served time in Morgantown, having been sent up about four years ago. He was out on parole at the time the automobile was stolen.

County Detective Lee made some statements relative to the records of the boys while in school. He said that the Mondell boy had a good record, but that of the other boys was not so good.

Mondell was paroled for five years, with the understanding that he pay the costs and pay $82 toward repairs on the automobile, which had been damaged. He is to report to the parole officer every month.

Nick Yova was sent to the Huntington Reformatory and Rocco Cusato was sent to Morgantown. It was stated that Rocco's parents asked that he be sent up as they were unable to control him.

George Taylor, possessing liquor, was fined $100 and costs and given three months to the county jail.

Homer Glover and Dorothy Skeens, fornication, fined $75 each and costs.

Mike Zhiza, possessing liquor, $200 fine and costs and six months to the workhouse.

James Thomas, larceny, $25 and costs and six months to workhouse.

Unknown Culprits Burn Taxi-Cab In Pittsburgh Today

THE TOWN DOCTOR "DOCTOR OF TOWNS" SAYS

ABOUT VACANT LOTS, STORES AND FACTORIES

Wherever you find vacant houses, vacant stores, and vacant factory buildings, you usually find vacant heads. Vacant lots all overgrown with weeds, rubbish-heaped and otherwise generally disreputable, near buildings where people work, do business, or dwell, is a symbol of "contemptuous familiarity," and proof that some one or group of someones has failed to apply known rules of good business.

Anything vacant, empty or untenanted repels, detracts, depresses and looks bad. Anything vacant casts a pall. It is too closely associated with things gone never to return—apt to give an impression too much like a skull and cross bones—and that's bad for business, bad for happiness, bad for everything.

If I lived in New Castle I'd go to the first meeting of any organization I belonged to, or could get into, and say: "Folks, there are some empty store buildings in this town that tend to make our town look too much like a grave yard. They spoil the good stores we do have, and it makes it appear to others that things are not so good around here. Now, I'm not a merchant, and I don't own any business property; but anything that hurts or takes away from New Castle is costing me money, and inasmuch as it doesn't cost any money to correct this particular liability, I for one, would like to see those places cleaned up, and the windows decorated, so that they will attract people, and at the same time make us all feel better by not having something ugly staring us in the face every time we walk down the street."

It wouldn't make any difference to me just what kind of a meeting it was as long as there were some people there. It could be a gathering of the Chamber of Commerce, a service club or any other civic organization; lodge, city council, property owner's association, or anything else.

And if I were a lady I'd do the same thing at my Women's Club, sewing circle, ladies aid society, study club; yes, I'd even say it at my bridge, pinocle or flinch club. And right here let me add that if I were a woman I wouldn't wait for the men to take action on it; for the looks, welfare and what other people thought and said about New Castle would be just as important to me, as much of "my business," as that of any man in town.

Perhaps you cannot take it upon yourself to clean up a factory building that might be standing somewhere in the outskirts of New Castle, all ghastly, spooky and forlorn; but you CAN use your influence to get somebody else to clean up around the building, or you can start the ball rolling to put through a city ordinance COMPELLING the owners, receivers or whoever is in control of it, to keep it from being an out-and-out liability to you and all the other good people of New Castle.

As far as vacant lots are concerned you can do plenty if your town is spotted and pock-marked with such. Get busy and clean them up. If the lot is a walled-in, barren plot down town, the best and most expensive way to hide it from view is to erect an ornamental fence. A few vines planted along it would help. If a lot is exposed, or on a corner, get together with a few other THINKING residents and spade it, rake it, sow it to grass, add a few flowers and make it so that it will INVITE business, and at the same time make your days brighter, happier and more content.

In every section of America there are people who are going to go places this summer. Many of these people will come to, and go through New Castle. All the way from ten to twenty per cent of these people are looking for, or can be sold a new location. Do you want them to "get sold" on New Castle? Did you ever take a fancy to anything that DIDN'T look good?

If you are to make more money, New Castle has to make more money. New Castle can't make more money unless it grows. You or no one else can make it grow unless new people are attracted to it, and you know and everybody else knows that there are few better ways to interest people in anything, than to make it look good.

Whether New Castle looks "like the deuce" or "like a million dollars" depends on what YOU are doing, and are going to get done, from now on; and there is no better time to start than right now.

Personal Business Efficiency—

Efficiency and sound principles are demanded in yourself just as you expect them from the merchants with whom you deal. You would be little likely to buy from a man who delivered your groceries a day late. Why then should he want to extend credit to you if you wait until the tenth has past to pay him? And so that your grocer and butcher—and all the grocers and butchers and other business men all over the country shall know that you are a man they want to deal with, the records of your promptness and reliability are national. So wherever you go you can get credit—if you deserve it.

Rumor Loot Taken By Flathead Gang Has Been Removed

District Attorney Park, Will Investigate Alleged Recovery Of $63,000

NEWSPAPERMAN GIVES OUT TIP

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, April 26.—District Attorney Andrew T. Park today was to investigate a rumor that loot amounting to about $63,000, some of the many thousands of dollars stolen by Pennsylvania's notorious bandit gang, the Flatheads, has been taken from its supposed hiding place on the Weekoski farm near Charleroi.

The money is part of the $104,000 taken by the gang four years ago when it bombed a paycar of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company. Paul Jaworski, reputed leader of the gang, boasted before he went to the electric chair that the money would never be recovered.

Trail is Lost
The reports Park will investigate are that a Charleroi newspaperman learned from an unidentified salesman that two strangers sought directions to the Weekoski farm from him and that later when he, the salesman, passed the farm he saw the men load two battered and rusty milk cans into their machine and drive away. The cans were similar to those in which part of the payroll loot was found buried on the farm.

The newspaperman is said to have followed the car through Bentleyville, Charleroi and Monongahela and then lost track of it near Monongahela. It was believed the car was headed for Pittsburgh.

The belief was expressed that the two strangers may have been pals of imprisoned members of the Flathead gang who had knowledge of the loot's secret cache, and who returned when they thought it safe to remove it.

Railroad Work Is Postponed

Pending Decision On Injunction Work Of Building Branch Line Is Halted

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, April 26.—Work on the six mile branch of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia railroad being built from Pigeon Creek to Baird, Washington county, will be postponed pending a decision of the United States Court in the injunction brought against the P. & W. Va., by the Pennsylvania railroad to prevent construction of the branch.

Decision in the case heard in federal court here Friday before Circuit Court Judge Victor B. Woolley and Federal Judges R. M. Gibson and F. P. Schoonmaker is expected within a few days.

The judges did not rule on the Pennsylvania's petition for a preliminary injunction when the defendant agreed to postpone construction work on the branch until decision on the final injunction is handed down.

No Legal Evidence
Attorney William Dalzell, for the Pennsylvania, charged the Interstate Commerce Commission had no legal evidence of necessity of the spur when it issued a certificate of convenience. The new line was an attempt to obtain freight tonnage of a territory which the Pennsylvania has adequately served since 1902, the attorney told the court.

The Pigeon-Creek branch is to connect with the P. & W. Va., at the Pigeon Creek end and with the Donora and Southern Railroad at the other end, tapping the rich Donora steel district.

Attorney H. H. Hoppe, representing the Pittsburgh & West Virginia, argued that the power of the commission to grant authority for construction of the line was discretionary. He claimed others were demands for the line as it would cut 12 hours off running time from Donora to Detroit and would shorten the rail distance to Baltimore by 71 miles.

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh's Thrilling New Record was made with PENNZOIL

"THE BEST MOTOR OIL IN THE WORLD"

Col. Lindbergh, Chairman of the Technical Committee of T.A.T. Maddux Lines—Pennsylvania Railroad Train and Plane 48-hour Route from Coast to Coast, used PENNZOIL as the lubricant throughout his record-breaking flight.

Up into the dawn at Glendale, California; down from the skies before midnight at the other side of the continent! Only one stop from coast to coast—in the fastest time ever recorded.

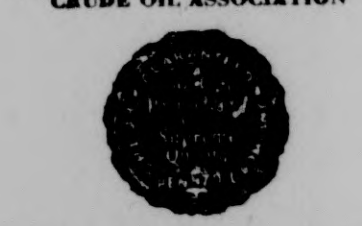

This is the thrilling new record created by Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh in their Lockheed Sirius Ship, powered with a Pratt & Whitney Wasp Motor, on April 20. As technical advisor to the T.A.T. Maddux Lines, Colonel Lindbergh made this flight to test the possibilities of higher altitudes for air transport.

In the freezing atmosphere from two to nearly three miles above the earth the motor of their ship droned sweetly hour after hour. The stop for fuel at Wichita was brief—then into the air again.

Such a test demanded perfect motor performance—perfect lubrication—and PENNZOIL, "the best motor oil in the world," was used throughout the flight. Resistance to the cold of high altitudes, resistance to the heat of uninterrupted motor performance—these are the qualities which PENNZOIL contributed to the success of this history-making flight.

Your motor car may never meet the test that Colonel Lindbergh's plane met so successfully, but the oil you put in your crankcase is the life blood of your motor. PENNZOIL, made from only the heart of pure Pennsylvania crude, penetrates to every working part of the motor and provides that film of protection which is essential to good motor performance.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Make Child Go To Bed And Get Up By Clock

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Many a time I have heard parents say of a child from two to five, "My child does not seem to need much sleep. He awakens in the morning before any one else of the house, won't sleep in the afternoon, and stays up in the evening as long as we let him." Such a parent usually adds: "Children are very different in respect to the amount of sleep they need." Upon little questioning one can practically always learn of the child said to need but little sleep that he is peevish and hard to manage.

There always will be parents who delude themselves to believe that whatever is right and who strive so hard to justify themselves in doing what their common sense condemns that they, by and by, believe their reasoning to be correct.

It is true that some children do live and grow into men and women, who in early childhood got a very limited amount of sleep. There is no proof, however, that such persons have a healthy nervous system or nearly measure up in physical and mental stature to their possibilities.

Science and common sense conspire to command us parents to train children early in good sleep habits.

The child who seems to need least sleep is the very child who really needs most sleep. He is very active and excitable. He doesn't quiet down enough to feel sleepy, and when he goes to sleep he may be easily awakened by the slightest disturbances.

The child has only one life to live. Why not help him to make it the very healthiest and happiest possible? For the toddler eleven or twelve hours by night and an hour or two by day is most desirable. He doesn't know what is good for him. If he decides when he is to sleep he will go on until he drops.

Sleep is a matter of habit. Have a clock. Obey it to the letter. See that the child is in bed on the minute at the regular time you have selected and that there is no excitement, no fatigue in him, for half an hour or so before he goes to bed.

Let him not get up until the reasonable hour you have chosen. Assure that little children should get up at five, lose the needed sleep themselves and compel the mother to awaken too.

You can't make the child sleep. But it is easy to make him remain in a sleeping position till there is a definite signal like the ringing of a clock. Once he knows he dares not rise he just goes back to sleep. It may take several mornings for a spoiled child to discover that you are not a liar.

There must be no argument, no doubt. Then it will work. We have tried it in our home and found that a child can learn to sleep in the morning until any reasonable regular hour set.

I shall be glad to answer in these columns, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

If you have a question you would like to have answered personally, write me enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ex-Chancellor Of Austria Attacked, Saved From Death

Assassin Hurls Himself On Dr. Ignaz Seipel In Vienna

(International News Service)

VIENNA, April 26.—Ex-Chancellor Ignaz Seipel barely escaped death by assassination today when an unidentified assassin, hurling himself upon the statesman before the door of the Capuchin church, burial place of the Hapsburgs, attempted to strangle him with bare hands.

Passersby seized the assailant and dragged him away. Authorities stated that the man apparently was demented.

Grilled By Police.

The police, however, immediately launched an investigation to determine whether the assassin was the tool of a band of conspirators. He was subjected to a lengthy questioning at police headquarters, but it appeared he had acted independently in the abortive attempt.

Dr. Seipel, leader of the Catholic party in Austria, was elected as chancellor last year by Dr. Johann Schober. He attracted international attention some time before his resignation by his bitter controversy with Premier Mussolini over the status of Austrian-born residents of the upper Adige, now Italian territory.

Seipel charged in the Austrian parliament that Mussolini was seriously endangering the peace of Europe by forcing these residents to bow to the Fascist regime. He charged that Mussolini had forbidden them to speak the Austrian language.

The affair reached the aspects of an international impasse, with threats of severance of diplomatic relations, until it was patched up.

Peter's Adventures

NO PLACE FOR A PEACEFUL BEETLE

When Peter had a friend he always took that friend's part. "From what you tell me I think Brown Water Beetle must be a mean fellow," he began, but Great Water Beetle held a claw to his lip.

"Sh!" begged the insect, glancing cautiously about him. "Please don't mention any names. If my cousin overheard what you said he would take out his anger on me. Not while you were looking, oh, no, that isn't Cousin's way. He would lurk in the mud and pounce upon me before I knew he was around or could get out of his way. Dear me, it would be a pity if anything happened to me right now. My wife is about to spin her cocoon and she may need some help."

Peter bent over so no one but Great Water Beetle could hear what he said.

"If I were you I'd pick up my spunk and fight that bullying cousin of yours!" said he. "I'd punch him black and blue. It wouldn't do you a bit of harm and it might do him a heap of good. He needs to be taught a lesson."

"But my mother didn't raise me to be a fighter!" protested Great Water Beetle. "I hate to hurt anything, even my cousin. Do you know, young Human, I always close my eyes when I see the Despot coming my way. Well I know what he is out for."

"Who is the Despot?" Peter was curious. "Oh I know, you mean your bullying cousin."

"Right!" Great Water Beetle, chuckled. "You keep your wits about you. I am sorry to say it is my first cousin who rules the pool by cruelty. He has mercy on no one. Dragon-Fly Larva is just as bad though. The two are wicked rivals. Between them the rest of us live in terror of our lives, the better half of the time!"

Jefferson Alumni Invited To Dinner In Philadelphia

Dr. J. Chalmers DaCosta Will Be Honored On Wednesday Evening, April 30

Quite a number of New Castle physicians, who are graduates of the Jefferson Medical College, have received invitations to attend a Testimonial Dinner in honor of J. Chalmers DaCosta, M. D., in Philadelphia. The dinner will be an event of Wednesday evening, April 30.

Local physicians who attended Jefferson Medical College, the nation's first in rank among medical colleges, all know Dr. DaCosta, who won fame in his earlier years as a splendid teacher, surgeon and orator and later made himself known internationally as a distinguished author and scientist.

Dr. DaCosta will be the main speaker at the banquet, which will be held at 6:30 at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel. Other speakers will be Dr. Walter E. Dandy, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Dr. Rudolph Matal, Tulane University, New Orleans, and Dr. John B. Deaver, Philadelphia.

Following the dinner will be a scientific meeting for the members of the Philadelphia County Medical Society. It is probable that New Castle will be represented at DaCosta's Supper Night. This will be the greatest medical event of the year. A large proportion of New Castle physicians are alumni of Jefferson Medical College.

(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT)

WILLIAM MCLEWEE, JR.

To the voters who expect to vote in the Second Legislative District on May 20.

The problem of taxation in the rural communities and the small municipalities is a real problem at this time.

What was a fair public road before the advent of the motor vehicle is hardly a good lane now. The land tax was the main source of income for the maintenance of the roads then and, except as the state aids, it is the main source of income for that purpose now. The policy of the state in giving aid has been to require the townships to spend an increased amount of their own money in order to get state assistance. This policy has helped build township roads it is true, and to some extent was good, but it also has increased the obligations of the townships and land taxes have become a burden. When taxes equal or exceed rental values, the situation is serious. The land owner is a part of the state, and should not be required to burden himself by additional obligations in order to get what rightfully is his own.

Some method must be devised to increase the revenues of the townships that will not at the same time increase the land taxes.

I favor a readjustment of the system of taxation that will relieve rather than increase the burden of him who pays the land tax. An equitable division of the gasoline tax has been proposed for this purpose. There is much good reason to support this proposition. The motor vehicle very largely is the cause of the increased expense, and it seems reasonable that it should bear part of the burden. This has been the policy of the state for some time, but automobiles also travel the township roads and do them proportionally greater damage than they do the hard surfaced state highways. I favor the proposed division of the gasoline tax with the townships because I see no better way to solve this problem. However, if I am elected, I will study very carefully to find the best solution.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM MCLEWEE, JR.

Freak Method Of Addressing Letters To Fail In Future

Government Not To Attempt To Decipher Addresses In Future

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26. —Admirers of Amos 'n' Andy, Robert L. 'Believe It or Not' Ripley, and other radio and newspaper entertainers in the public eye, will have to address their fan mail to their idols from now on in the more orthodox fashion instead of using cryptic trick addresses, the post office department has ruled in a general order issued to postmasters.

Hereafter, all letters and postcards containing these freak addresses, if the sender is not known, will be consigned to the dead letter office, Assistant Postmaster General Frederic A. Tilton declares.

While postal employees have become expert in deciphering freak addresses on communications which are meant for popular entertainers, it is pointed out that the postal laws and regulations require that all letters and postcards should bear proper addresses.

"The enviable reputation of postal employees for their patient persistence in deciphering the addresses on mail has led some persons to place 'freak' addresses on letters, 'just to see' if they will reach the person for whom intended," Tilton said. "Such so-called addresses consist of rebuses or symbols of various kinds more or less suggestive of the names of alleged well known persons in various stations in life."

Discoverer Of Planet X Former Resident Here

Dr. John Q. Stewart, professor of astronomical physics at Princeton university, and who during the month just passed has attracted the attention of scientists the country over as a result of his newly-discovered Planet X, is a nephew of Mrs. Edwin W. Crawford, East Wallace avenue and Mrs. J. C. Liebendorfer, Matland lane. Dr. Stewart is also a former resident of New Castle.

Speaking of the newly-found planet in one of his many interviews since he first announced his findings, Dr. Stewart went on to say that "the heavenly balance which astronomers have recognized for nearly a century between the earth-like group of planets, Mercury, Venus, Mars and the earth, and the other group which consists of Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune will probably swing in favor of the former when additional observational data is obtained from the newly-found planet."

Astronomers are waiting with interest observations regarding the presence or absence of atmosphere on the new body. Possibly atmosphere cannot exist there because the constituent gases would be frozen. However, helium, hydrogen and neon might exist in gaseous forms. Further announcements are being awaited with interest and it is expected that additional data will be forthcoming soon.

Interviews, lectures and writing of his new discovery has kept Dr. Stewart busy since his first announcement was made, and appearances have been made on platforms at Philadelphia, New York and Boston. Newspapers throughout the United States have carried accounts of his lectures, and his findings are regarded of the utmost importance, due to the fact that it means the presence of another heavenly planet which scientists heretofore were without knowledge of.

Dr. Stewart left New Castle to take up residence at Princeton when he assumed his professorship at the university.

Warns Motorists Of Operations Of "Gyp" Promoters

Many Representatives Of Fake Concerns In Field, Local
Motor Club Head
Finds

Anticipating the season when car owners are preparing for frequent motor trips, a swarm of "gyp" operators for concerns masquerading as motor clubs are preparing for a rich harvest from motorists who join without investigation, according to R. W. Bolsinger, president of the New Castle Motor club, which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

Mr. Bolsinger pointed out that every section of the country is confronted with these illicit operations, despite the activities of federal agencies and better business bureaus.

"Aside from the fleeing of motorists through the sale of these worthless service contracts," said the A. A. A. club executive, "these 'gyps' impose a heavy toll on garages, service stations, filling stations, hotels and others catering to car owners."

"With the call of the outdoors and motorists eager to fortify themselves against trouble enroute, they listen to the story of the 'gyp' operator and accept his promises without investigation. The money invested goes entirely for the profit of the promoter and his high pressure salesmen, who are here today and gone tomorrow."

The New Castle Motor club executive said that the cooperation of the post office department, the department of justice and better business bureaus throughout the country has been secured in the campaign to protect car owners.

"The simple way for motorists to protect themselves," he continued, "is to ask questions regarding the organization that proposes to sell automobile service. They should ask every salesman who the local officials are, that is, who is its president, its treasurer, its board of directors and its secretary. If they are not satisfied they should immediately take steps to secure additional information through the Chamber of Commerce, or New Castle Motor club."

Backs Into Car, Gets Life Sentence In Matrimony

GREENVILLE, Pa., April 26. — A life sentence of wedded bliss was imposed on Vincent O'Connor of Erie, when he was brought before Squire W. D. Reznor yesterday charged with reckless driving.

It all happened when O'Connor and his bride-to-be, Noni Linzie also of Erie, arrived in Greenville about noon yesterday. In parking his car on Main street O'Connor is alleged to have backed into another car. A John Reznor by Q. V. Van Curen whose car was damaged.

When the happy couple returned to their car Constable James Cullinan stepped forth and served the warrant on O'Connor and took him to the Squire's office. Here the Erie man pleaded not guilty, but he agreed to pay for the damage done.

In an abashed manner he produced a marriage license obtained in Meadville yesterday, explaining that he was about to embark on high matrimonial seas. The suggestion was offered that Squire Reznor was adept at tying knots and O'Connor agreed heartily.

The bridegroom left, to reappear a few minutes later with the young lady.

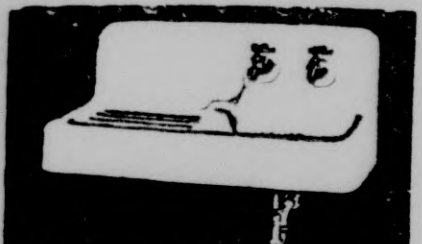

After the ceremony the newly-weds left for parts unknown.

Policeman Troubled, By Jealous Wife Is Granted Divorce

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 26.—His wife was so jealous that she hid him in cars at night and shadowed him on his beat as police officer, in Belle Vernon, according to allegations made by John Perry, who was granted a divorce from Marion Perry.

On one occasion, Perry declared, his wife appeared when he placed a man under arrest and humiliated him with the use of profanity.

The husband claimed that once his wife followed him to the Belle Vernon police station where she leveled a revolver at him and attempted to pull the trigger, but did not understand the release on the revolver.

Grand Jury Urges Steps Be Taken To Guard Against Any Disaster

MERCER, Pa., April 26.—Recommendations of such changes as may be necessary in Mercer County public buildings to protect the county charges from the Ohio pen disaster were included in the report of the April Grand Jury filed here last evening.

Both at the county home and jail the jury suggest that the commissioners see to it that the building is provided with adequate fire doors and such fire protection as may be necessary. A door from the cell tiers leading to the outside is suggested. The recommendation for the county home is general. The jury approve the proposed renovation of the court house, they approved the building of two bridges, one over Snodgrass Run in Sugar Grove township and the other over Haywood Run in Farrell.

Graf Zeppelin Dips In Salute To Paris

Huge German Airship Appears Over Paris—Heads For London

(International News Service)
PARIS, April 26.—Her silver sides glistening in the full light of the noonday sun, the giant German dirigible arrived over Paris from Friedrichshafen on the stroke of 12 noon today (6 a. m. Eastern Standard Time).

The Zeppelin circled the city several times, dropped a cargo of mails and then headed northward toward London.

Crowds in the streets cheered the huge dirigible as it soared majestically over the city.

Parisians flocked from offices, homes, and cafes to view the giant aircraft overhead. Hundreds of thousands gazed upward as the Zeppelin circled the city at a very low altitude. The ship barely cleared the topmost platform of the Eiffel Tower as it swung towards Le Bourget.

FEATURE PROGRAM

The Old Timers Orchestra of Mercer was the program feature at the Stockley School last evening when a rousing community night was held.

The events were in charge of Louis Graham and consisted of a program of songs.

FEW TEACHERS GOING AWAY
There are less than 100 Mercer County teachers that will be required to attend school this summer to advance their academic standing to the point required by the school code where they are given a permanent certificate.

When the new code went into effect five years ago was given the teachers of the state to advance their academic standing. This ended in 1927. Teachers employed before that year are still being given this opportunity. The number is growing less each year the records at the office of County Superintendent shows.

Many county teachers with proper credentials to teach attend school as a matter of precaution. It is estimated that 200 county teachers will attend this summer.

FEW SCHOOL PICNICS
For years the closing of schools in the grades has been celebrated by the holding of a school picnic attended by all the children and in some communities including their parents.

The rural schools started closing Wednesday.

Reports of this festive event arriving here at the county office of the superintendent are to the effect that they are sad affairs. Some schools called them off, others held them inside.

FROST CAUSES LOSS
The early fruit crop suffered a heavy loss in the county according to orchard owners.

The early peaches are frosted in the report from all parts of the county and seem to be the worst damaged crop of the lot. Early cherry trees were in bloom when this cold weather arrived and will be frosted without a doubt.

It is thought that the apple crop was not advanced far enough to have been hurt. In many gardens early vegetables were up and will have to be re-planted.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Mild storm wave expected to cross continent during week centering on 26 will move down to central storm path, will cause general warm wave preceding storm center and mild cool wave following storm center; precipitation during this storm period will average above normal for the continent. Last week of April will average about normal temperatures and above normal precipitation for the continent, but most precipitation is expected in eastern Great Central valleys and on north Pacific slope, highest temperatures relative to local normals in western Great Central valleys, central and south Pacific slope. East part of continent expected to average about normal temperatures and precipitation for this period.

Moist phases during the near future will occur as follows, given to nearest hour of Greenwich Civil time; to change Greenwich Civil time to your local standard time, count one hour earlier for each fifteen degrees of longitude you are located west from Greenwich: First Quarter May 5 at 17 hours; Full Moon 12 at 17 hours; Last Quarter 20 at 16 hours; New Moon 28 at 6 hours; First Quarter June 3 at 22 hours.

Expected Cropweather Features During May
May will be a month of northern cold waves, general cool waves and general warm waves. Lowest temperatures expected during week centering on 24, longest period of below normal temperature during moderate storm waves centering on 1 and 10 and following moderate storm wave centering on 28; a moderately severe storm wave expected to center on 20. Unusually cool weather expected on Pacific slope near May 1. Month will average below normal temperatures and about normal precipitation for the continent.

Principal evaporation point for the entire continent for May and following months will be located on central Pacific ocean; this will cause a general decrease in precipitation during the month. Heaviest decrease in precipitation usually an evaporation point so located would cause heavy precipitation on Pacific slope, but I will expect this one to cause a decrease in that area. Last days of April and first days of May will probably carry too much moisture to central and eastern cotton belt for best results. Warmest period of May will be expected to center on 28, but will not be of long duration. Precipitation during May will be an indicator for the months to follow; areas where precipitation decreases during month will be expected to become dry later in season; areas where an increase occurs during month will probably be too wet later in season; watch this point for your locality. I will expect areas of decreasing precipitation to be very plain by end of May and that by middle of June a large area of drought will be fairly well outlined.

Margaret Henry Home Requires Increased Funds

Caring For Sixty-Three Boys And Girls At Present Time

THIS AND REPAIRS INCREASE NEEDS

Increased number of boys and girls being cared for at the Margaret Henry Home for Children, and the necessity of re-roofing the building were the more important reasons shown in reports at the annual meeting of the Home held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms for an increase in the amount that must be asked of the Community Chest next year.

The annual message of President Marcus Feuchtwanger contained many recommendations in the operation of the home during the ensuing year.

At the present time, sixty-three boys and girls are being housed, fed and cared for at this institution, which is causing a very heavy overhead. It is being found very difficult, it was shown in his report to carry on the home and look after the welfare of the children with the small amount of money, which is being received from the Community Chest, namely $5,000.

Mr. Feuchtwanger was re-elected president following the report of the nominating committee. The officers and directors elected for the ensuing year are: Honorary Pres., David S. Pyle, President, Marcus Feuchtwanger; vice president, Charles W. Read, treasurer, Thomas W. Dickey; secretary, C. L. McMillen, Matron, Margaret L. Henry, assistant matron, Madge S. Price, Directors: Rufus C. Patterson, Samuel Klaffer, Josephs Hannon, Alexander Crawford Hoyt, P. J. Flaherty, Robert J. Tully, the Hon. Jas.

A. Chambers, the Hon. R. L. Hildebrand, Charles C. Robinson. Report of the House and Grounds Committee of which D. S. Pyle is chairman asked for the re-roofing of the home. The request was granted, it being absolutely necessary that this improvement be made. The report of the House and Grounds committee also showed that there is no longer a muddy condition around the home, as nearly five hundred square feet of concrete paving and curbing have been completed. This will add to the cleanliness of the place, as no dirt from the children tramping through the mud into the house will occur as in past years.

In his report, Secretary C. L. McMillen informed those present that the deficit during the year was caused by the increase in the number of children cared for, Treasurer Thomas W. Dickey in his report, expressed his regret that was compelled to show such a small balance in the treasury and that ways and means will have to be taken to increase the income of the home. It was stated that the Community Chest has been much help in the finance of the home, but that during the next year, the requirement of the Chest for the support of the home, must be slightly greater. Some of those present stated that they would increase their gifts to the Chest so that Treasurer Dickey's recommendation could be carried out by the Community Chest.

Blame Slim Figure For Farm Troubles

CHICAGO, Ill., April 26.—Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture suggested to the Chicago Commercial club last night that widespread dieting is in part responsible for the troubles of the farmers.

"If there were no diet experts influencing the people in what they should eat there would be no farm product surplus," said Secretary Hyde. The secretary declared the economic tendencies of the country are against the farmer, the introduction of the automobile and the tractor on the farm has thrown into disuse all the horses that were formerly used and this, in turn, threw into the market all the production of those acres that were formerly used to feed live stock.

Body Is Found Near Hobo Camp

BUTLER, Pa., April 26.—When Luciana Chenot of Hickory street was passing near the "Jungle," a hobo camp at the end of Zeigler avenue, Pennsylvania railroad lines, at noon, Friday, he discovered the body of T. P. O'Connor, alias, Terence McGovern, 51, formerly of Emlenton. Investigation by the coroner showed alcoholism as the cause of death.

Possibly some of these Literary Digest votes for "diet enforcement" of prohibition are inspired by curiosity.—The Dayton Daily News.

McDonald Busy In Student Canvas Work

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 26.—A. A. McDonald, graduate manager and director of student canvas at Westminster College, is a busy man these days as he visits high schools in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. This past week he has visited the Warren, O., and the Mercer schools in the interests of the college.

McDonald reports that a larger group of high school seniors than ever before have indicated that they plan to enroll at Westminster in the fall. Already a number have made reservations for room and board in their dormitories.

By the end of May it is thought that there will be almost a capacity list of prospective students for the fall.

While there seems to be a quite general drop in college enrollments throughout the east, Westminster officials believe that the enrollment next year will surpass that of this year if early indications prove anything.

Tells Fathers To Become Real Chums To Sons

State Boys Work Director Of Y. M. C. A. Addresses Fathers And Sons Of Y. M. C. A.

121 BOYS ATTEND BANQUET WITH DADS

"Half an hour's chumming of a father with his boy is worth a whole library full of good books," Charles E. Ford, state boys' work director for the Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania told a group of fathers who gathered at the Y. M. C. A. last night with their sons on the occasion of the annual fathers' and sons' banquet of the association.

There were 121 members of the boys' department and their dads present to hear Mr. Ford's interesting message and to enjoy the remainder of the evening's program, perhaps the most enthusiastic in the association's banquet history.

"Being a father to a boy is the greatest job I know of," the director went on to say. "A boy doesn't go just exactly where you tell him to go, no sir, but where you go yourself, it's up to the fathers to set examples for their sons and that's what I'm appealing to you to do."

Message Interesting
The address of Mr. Ford was one of unusual interest from beginning to close, and had to do chiefly with the fathers' relationship to his son.

He praised the father-son banquet idea, pointing out that it brings about the needed chum relationship between the father and his boy. During the closing part of his message he elaborated upon the son's duty to his father and his home, declaring that the son, too, has a necessary obligation to perform.

Presiding throughout the evening was young Robert Mercer, an active member of the boys' department, the son of Attorney J. Roy Mercer. Robert officiated capably, and conducted the program in a manner that would keep a veteran toastmaster hustling.

Dinner at 6:30
A sumptuous dinner was served by members of the Y cafeteria staff at 6:30, after the group had sung "America" and the invocation had been offered by R. L. Meermans, general secretary.

Following the dinner came a period of pep songs led by DeLace Cole one of the fathers. Mr. Cole kept the enthusiasm sparking during the program. Kenneth Myers, talented pianist accompanied the singers at the piano.

Mr. Ford spoke next, taking no special theme for his address, but rather choosing to speak on the fathers and sons in general. W. A. Thomas, boys' secretary of the local Y introduced him.

Makes Presentation
Immediately after the appropriate address, General Secretary Meermans was introduced by Toastmaster Mercer. Mr. Meermans presented a gold pin to Nimer Habib at this time for being the first member of the Y's Emblem club to bring five new members into the association. The Emblem Club was organized more than a year ago and has a membership made up of Y boys.

Mr. Meermans also announced the dates for the summer camp this year which are July 1 to August 4 and urged as many boys to attend as possible. He referred to the gift of Fred L. Rentz, that the entire 26 acres of camp site which he bought and turned to the association in its permanent outdoor retreat.

Hi-Y Orchestra
Orchestral music throughout the evening's program was furnished by members of the Benjamin Franklin Junior Hi-Y orchestra, with Mrs. W. A. Thomas accompanying at the piano.

The program automatically adjourned following Mr. Meermans' talk and the fathers with their sons went to the gymnasium where Physical Director Henry MacNichols had things ready for an evening of fun. Games were played and as a feature of the program motion pictures of the summer camp with the boys in attendance, were shown through the courtesy of Jack Boyles.

Following the races and events on the gym floor a large number of the fathers and sons topped the evening off with a dip in the swimming pool. The banquet last night brings to a close the major activities of the boys' department for the year, believed to have been the most successful in boys' department history.

PRISON WARDEN THOMAS WILL ANSWER CHARGES

den Thomas. "See what happened when the prisoners at Auburn, N. Y., had Warden Jennings in their hands. The governor and myself were the only ones with the power to order the gates opened."

"Ever since the New York legislature granted concessions to the prisoners at Auburn after their last uprising—the granting of more food, better clothing and the like—the Bolshevik element in the Ohio penitentiary has been agitating for softer treatment."

"I got reports from the better element inside the prison. And so I arranged for the National Guard and the regular army troops at Fort Hayes to be prepared for any emergency. I knew we were sitting on a volcano."

Bury Unclaimed.
Forty-five unclaimed victims of the disaster were buried in three cemeteries this afternoon. The caskets were taken from the improvised morgue in the Horticultural building at the fairgrounds on army trucks, four bodies on each truck.

The utmost simplicity marked the burial. Thirty-one bodies were laid to rest in Eastman cemetery in one huge grave. At each end of the plot was an American flag. Twelve others were buried at the Catholic cemetery in Mount Cavalry and two Negroes were buried in Evergreen cemetery.

About 2,000 curious persons witnessed the burial at Eastman cemetery. They chatted a great deal and there was no evidence of sorrow, no pathetic scenes, no relatives present.

A small wreath of flowers was placed on top of each box. Six sailors and sailors stood on guard at the bier.

Over the grave Chaplain K. E. Wall of the prison said these words: "Earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust, insure a certain hope of resurrection."

Father Albert O'Brien, a Catholic priest, and Rabbi Jacob Weisbach also participated in the burial ceremonies. Fully 1,000 troops continued to patrol the outer walls of the prison. However, while the convicts inside had quieted down somewhat they still were conducting a "passive resistance" campaign against Warden Preston Thomas for whose removal there is a general hue and cry among the prisoners.

Order has not yet been restored inside the penitentiary as the convicts refuse to obey the prison rules unless a new warden is placed in charge. Various meetings are being held by the convicts. One committee of eight convicts put in a demand for federal investigation of the fire and a conduct of the prison. Guards transmitted the demand to penitentiary officials.

Pittsburgh Bandits Get $1,000 Payroll

Man Carrying Payroll Forced At Point Of Guns To Give Up Money

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 26.—Two unmasked bandits today held up and robbed J. H. Dillner, partner of the Dillner Transfer and Storage company, grabbed a $1,000 payroll and escaped in an automobile.

Dillner was carrying the money from the East End Savings and Trust company to his office when the robbery occurred.

The two men swerved their machine in front of Dillner's car, forced him to the curb, leaped onto the running board of his car and demanded the money. They kept pistols trained on Dillner while he turned over the payroll.

As the men sped away, Dillner obtained the license number on their car, Pennsylvania HP-930.

A short time before the holdup, Frank Labash, of Johnstown, reported his car bearing that license had been stolen at Baum boulevard and Whitfield street.

Einsteins Theory Of Sun Confirmed

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 26.—Einstein's relativity shift theory of the sun was confirmed today at the morning session of the American Philosophical society's convention here by spectra exhibited by Dr. S. A. Mitchell of the University of Virginia, which he had obtained during total eclipses of the sun.

Photographs of the "flash spectrum" secured at the star and end of the totality revealed the extent to which the solar gases rise above the sun's surface. Measurements of these heights are of the greatest importance in interpretation of many solar phenomena, Dr. Mitchell said.

Professor L. V. Heilbrunn, of the University of Pennsylvania, discussed his new discoveries concerning the behavior of prominences for the benefit of his fellow scientists also at the morning session. He claimed that through his experiments more had been learned concerning the actual mysteries of life.

Cave men once inhabited the Philippines according to another paper read by Dr. R. B. Dixon of Harvard University, who gleaned the material for his report from the explorations of Prof. H. Oley Beyer of the University of the Philippines. More than 100 sites where the stone age men lived have been uncovered he said.

The sessions of the world renowned scientists will come to a close tonight with a dinner at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins, noted explorer, Dr. James Rowland Angell, president of Yale, and Dr. Edwin Grant Conklin, professor of zoology of Princeton, will address the gathering.

Sir Hubert will talk on "Seeking Useful Knowledge," Dr. Angell's thesis will be "promoting useful knowledge," and Dr. Conklin will explain "The Service of Science to Mankind."

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

How do you feel about a lie? Would you tell the truth under any circumstances, or do you consider that under certain circumstances a lie is justifiable? Are there times when you would boast of telling a lie which saved the honor and happiness of someone? Is there ever a time when you would boast of telling the truth if it wrecked a life?

So much importance is attached to telling the truth, and rightfully I suppose, that there are people who stand up and boast that whatever else they did, they wouldn't lie.

Yesterday a woman testified in an eastern divorce court against her own sister. She said that she HAD to tell the truth even though she realized that it meant disgrace for the sister. She saw her married sister making love to some man other than her husband at a party, and the sister asked her to turn down the lights in the sun room so that their behavior would be less conspicuous.

It didn't say whether or not she did turn the lights down. It would be interesting to know.

Whether or not you would tell the truth under such circumstances, or get yourself out of the jurisdiction of the court, at least I imagine you can think of things you'd rather do than testify. Perhaps this woman could too, but if you were in her boots would you tell the truth, lie or disappear? What would you consider right?

Is it lack of character that makes some people regard the laws of right and wrong as slightly elastic? Or is it something really fine in them that tells them that is the way the rules SHOULD be regarded?

It is certainly there are distinct differences in lying. There is the kind you do to save your own hide, which most people consider justifiable. There is the kind that starts tea gossip, the favorite pastime of character assassins. Then there is the lie told to preserve your home happiness or save the character of someone near to you, even if not dear.

I've heard of people who told well constructed stories, all lies, to save someone's happiness, and they felt no ill effect. I've known of others who told the truth and shamed the devil, and they felt no ill effect.

It is difficult to lie to women. They are hounds for the truth (from other people) and quick as foxes to detect a falsehood. It's easier to lie to them in writing.

I'd certainly like to have some opinions on the question.

Robbery Suspects Fined By Mayor

Man Whom They Are Alleged To Have Robbed Couldn't Positively Identify Them

A call from the Pennsylvania yard office at Mahoning avenue last Friday afternoon to the effect that two negroes had robbed a white man behind the bill board on the circus grounds in that vicinity resulted in Detective John Young and Officers Longstreth and Lynch rushing to the scene.

They apprehended William Cromble and Dale Robinson near the fence of the Shenango works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company and they were identified as being the men seen coming from behind the bill boards counting money. David McAllister, the white man in the case, who was rather under the influence of liquor was also taken to the police station.

He stated that he had been robbed of between $25 and $30 but was apparently unable to positively identify the men under arrest as the individuals who had robbed him. Cromble had $23.50 and Robinson $2.40 when taken to the police station.

Mayor Gillespie fined each of the men arrested on charges of suspicion to the tune of $10 which they paid, the police believe from the funds that were taken from McAllister, the white man.

Market Today Is Irregular

Utility And Specialties Feature Rather Irregular Stock Market Today

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, April 26.—Strength and activity of the utility stocks and specialties featured an irregular week-end market, in which a number of the important industrials, including the motors, lost ground.

Strong buying of Columbia Graphophone near the close forced that stock to above 36 for a new gain of nearly 3 points. Radio and Radio Keith, with General Electric and other stocks of the electric manufacturing radio-amusement family forged ahead brilliantly at times.

Public Service of New Jersey, Consolidated Gas, United Corporation, United Gas Improvement and other favorites in the utility group established new high records for the year.

United Aircraft recovered the bulk of yesterday's losses, but a number of the well known industrials, mostly last year's favorites, like Johns-Manville, Atlas Powder, Columbian Carbon and Canada Dry, were forced lower by persistent selling.

Continued weakness in wheat also influenced some selling of stocks.

The copper, motor and airplane stocks rallied sharply near the close. United Aircraft made a net gain of 4-4 points at 86; Anaconda Copper was fractionally higher at 64 1-2; Kennecott Copper unchanged at 48 1-2.

Chrysler Motor rallied from 35 1-2 to 37 and closed fractionally lower. Hudson Motor closed at 47, up 1 7-8; Studebaker at 38, up 3-8; Packard at 19 1-2, up 1-2.

United States Steel was down 1-4 at 188; Radio up 1-3-8 at 68 1-4; General Electric up 1-5-8 at 90; American Can down 2, 149 1-4; United Corporation up 3 1-8 at 51 1-2; Columbia Graphophone up 3 1-2 at 37; Public Service of New Jersey up 7-8 at 120 1-4; Canadian Pacific down 2 at 205.

Stock sales today totaled 2,315,000 shares.

Arsenal Team Wins In Soccer Match

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WEMBLEY STADIUM, April 26.—In one of the hardest fought football battles in British sports annals, the Arsenal eleven today captured the British soccer championship by trouncing the powerful Huddersfield United football team 2 to 0 before a capacity crowd of 100,000.

Saveage kicking and blocking and superb teamwork offered a game that repeatedly brought rousing cheers from the huge audience, providing thrills such as have seldom been witnessed on an English football field.

The trophy to the winner was the much coveted Football Association cup which recognized its possessor as the premier soccer team in the British Empire.

Both teams entered upon the field evenly matched, but the persistent and accurate kicking of the Arsenal warriors soon put the advantage on their side. Despite their valiant efforts, the Huddersfield men were unable to break down the aggressor.

Colored Man Makes Trouble In Store

Caught Shop Lifting And Almost Makes His Getaway After Being Caught

Walter Johnson, colored, of Mahoning avenue created quite a scene after he had been caught in the act of taking some ladies' hosiery and other articles at the Fisher Brothers Store, Washington street and Apple Way, late Friday afternoon.

He was caught in the act by some of the attaches of the store and taken to the office to adjust the matter. Suddenly and without warning, Johnson jumped over the railing of the office and started for the door in an effort to make his getaway.

Manager Joseph Rocks after him and caught hold of him, but Johnson was the stronger and took Rocks onto Washington street. Rocks called for assistance in holding him and an elderly man with a cane came along, reversed the cane and brought it down with considerable force on Johnson's head, stopping his ambition to get away. The man with the cane then went on as if nothing happened, not giving his name.

Former Officer Ray Thompson happened along and took Johnson to the police station. He was taken before Alderman L. C. Mantz where he was charged with larceny and placed in jail pending a hearing. Johnson had a dangerous looking knife of considerable size and with a spring that caused the blade to snap out, when searched at the police station.

Simpson Will Get Test Today In Big Penn Relay Carnival

Ohio State Speedster Will Test Skill In Century Dash With Best In Country

Expect Many Records To Fall Today At Penn Meet—Weather Is Ideal

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

PHILADELPHIA, April 26.—George Simpson, the man who annihilates distance and makes a fool of time, will go for his first airing of the Eastern season today in a special 100 yard dash at the Pennsylvania relay games, the distance at which he once ran faster than ever human foot traveled. On the occasion in question, he was clocked in 9 2-5 seconds, coming out of the Nicholson starting blocks, and this afternoon he will combine this device with a favorable track for another sortie against the old split-second.

The foot, says George in effect, is faster than the watch and maybe he will have to prove it today. He has picked up a live one in Karl Wildermuth of Georgetown, the current intercollegiate champion at the distance, and there are no radishes growing under the instep of Ed Hamm, either. He is the only Hamm who hasn't time to wait for a side order of champagne.

Weather is Good
The rest of the field is up to the relay standard, so Simpson may have to do as low as 9 3-4 seconds, his winning time at the 1929 games, in order to get down there promptly enough to nod briskly to the stewards. The track, as said, is ready for a record effort. The weather, too, has moderated some points off yesterday's frigid blast which was cold enough to blow the curl right out of a pompadour.

It didn't stop Simpson from ramming down the track on the anchor leg of the 440 yard relay championship to all but close out the account of one Mr. East, of Chicago. It didn't stop Berlinger from establishing a new carnival record of 7460.608 points in the deathstroke, interspersed with games records by the same agile young man in the shot put, javelin throw and pole vault. Nor did it stop almost the identical Chicago team in the sprint relay event nor Hatfield of Indiana, in the high hurdle and, by the same token, it will stop Simpson, Hamm and Wildermuth only when the last yard of their hundred is no more. Simpson took a beating from Jim Daise, Holy Cross, at 60 yards in New York last winter and probably is primed for the effort of his young life. He may have to be. Both Hamm and Wildermuth can and will do better than 10 seconds.

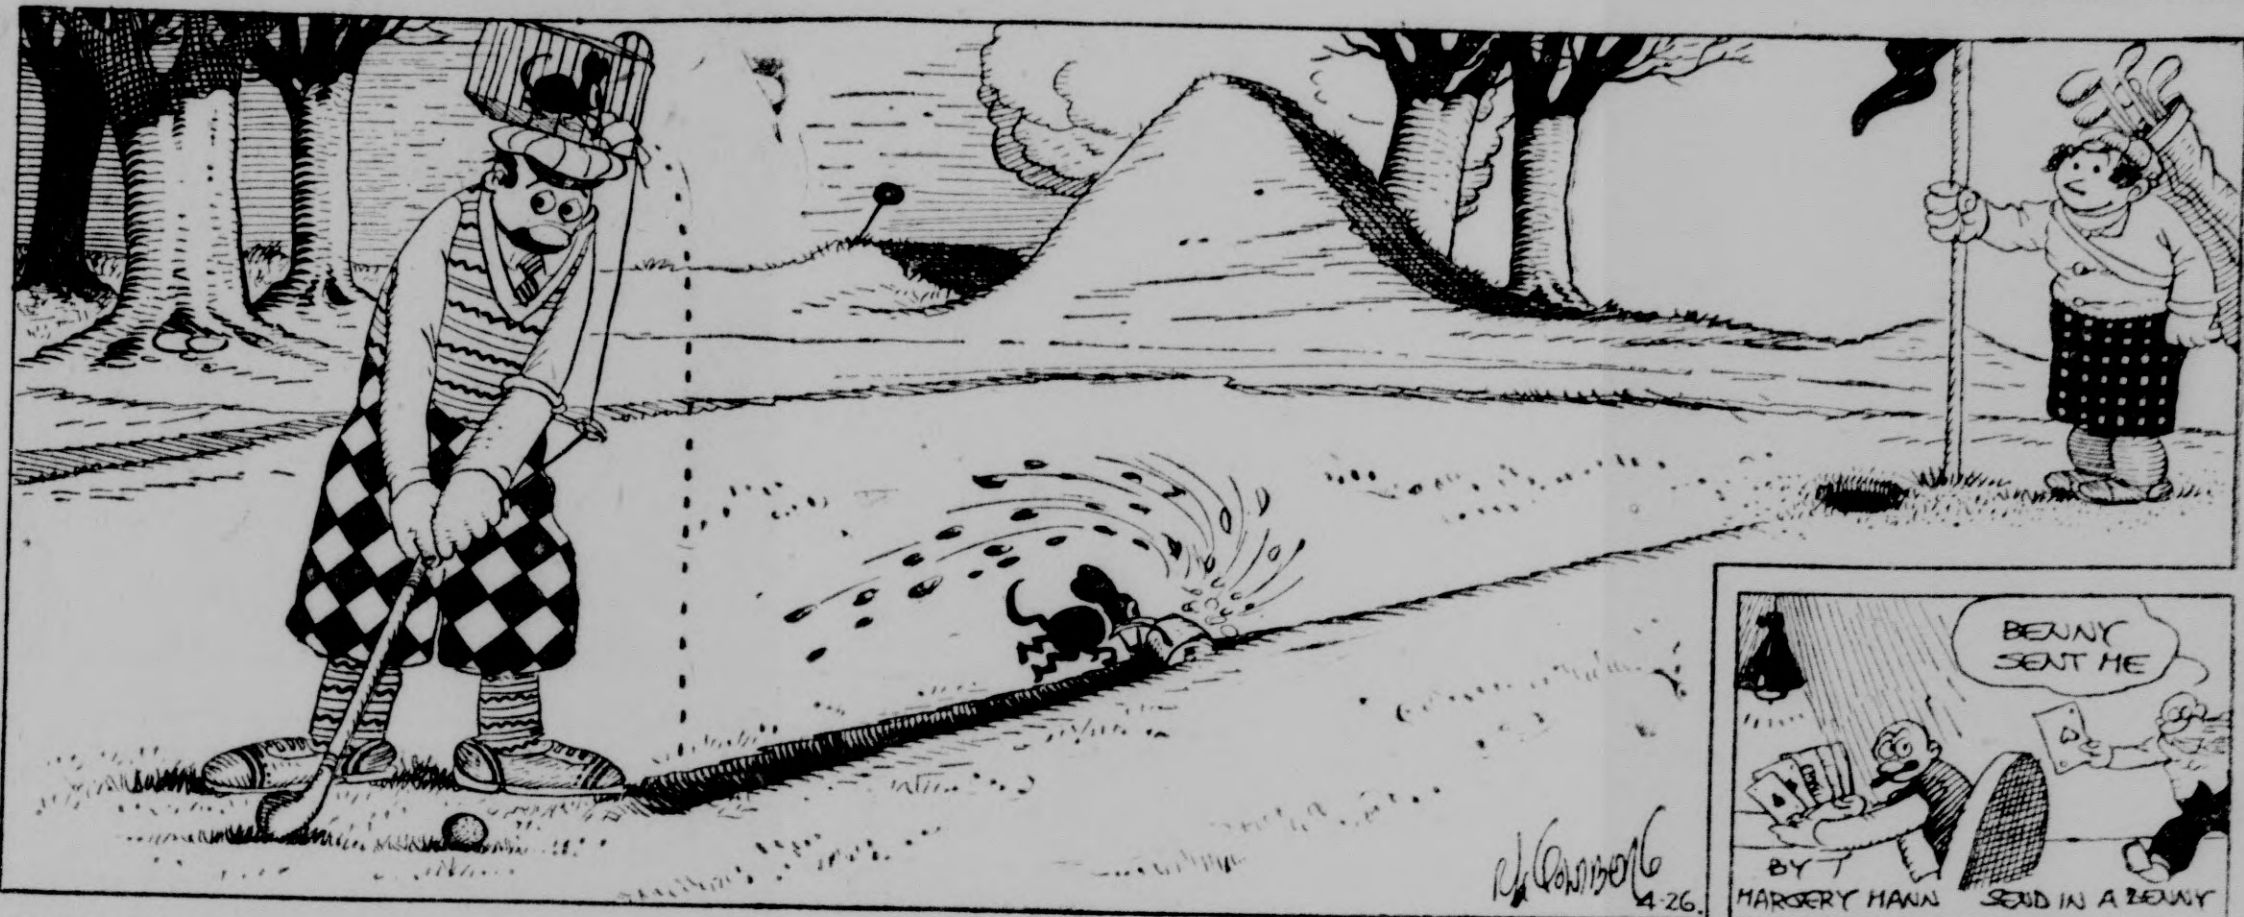

Good Broad Jumper
Hamm's entry may or may not mean a new record in the broad jump, much depending on how far he has come on in his conditioning. He can train on a shave and a haircut and beat 25 feet. His world's record is 25 feet 11 1/2 inches and if he is at all ready today, he will be up around there gesturing menacingly at 26 feet.

Two of the best races on the final day's relay program will be those at one and four miles. One of the worst may be the so-called "feature," which originally was supposed to bring Dr. Paul Martin, Switzerland; Ray Conger and Lou Lermund together at the mile distant, and the only time Conger and Lermund will get together is at the start. Lermund proved that yesterday when he was beaten off like a tyro by George Bullwinkle, New York City College, and Gene Venzke, unattached, in a special

Dempsey To Enter Mayo Clinic For "Good Overhauling"

Dempsey's Reported Comeback Is Postponed As Ex-Champ Seeks To Regain Health

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 26.—The possible return to the ring of Jack Dempsey was postponed by the announcement of the former, heavyweight champion in a telegram to friends here Friday that he would go to the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., next Monday or Tuesday for "a general overhauling."

Dempsey said in his message that he had cancelled his vaudeville and referee engagements. Contrary to earlier reports that he planned to go to California to begin training in a few months for a possible meeting with Max Schmeling, German boxer, Dempsey said he was undecided about going to the coast.

Dempsey also said he was undecided whether to accept the invitation of George Getz, Chicago millionaire, to accompany him on a trip to Africa. The ex-champ planned to remain in the Mayo clinic for several weeks.

Schedules Adopted In Mushball League

New Castle Mushball League Ready For Start Of Play On Monday Night May 12

Rules Adopted For Season—Player Lists Turned In—Interest In Game Increases

The New Castle Mushball League held an important business meeting last night at the Penn-Ohio Electric building. The schedules for play in the Industrial and Mercantile divisions were adopted by unanimous vote of the managers and officials present. Thirteen teams were represented at the meeting last night. The season will officially start on Monday night May 12. Four games will be played on the opening night.

There will be four games in the league for nights a week. Each team will play twice a week. Games are carded on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, with Wednesday open for postponed games.

The league managers also went on record last night with the adoption of set rules for mushball here, copied after the by-laws and rules by the Cleveland mushball men. The rules are in book form. An effort is being made to secure a number of these books and each manager will have a set of rules with him at each game, and they are to be lived up to.

Will Secure Rules

The meeting last night was presided over by President Charles "Bugs" Walter. A committee consisting of Tice of the Tin Mill, Cover of the Radiator Works and Clarke of the Haney team was picked by Walther to secure the rule books.

Player lists were handed in by the managers. There is no restriction to these lists handed in last night, but on June 1, they must be pared down to 13 men.

There is considerable interest being shown in mushball in New Castle this year. There are now sixteen teams in the two divisions, with over 300 men signed up for play. There is a possibility that one of the teams may not start the season, but it is not expected to prove difficult to secure another team, or possibly two more teams in case there may be another team not able to start. It is suggested that any one wishing to enter a team in the league set in touch with President Walther at the New Castle News at once, and you will be given first chance at any open franchises that may occur in the next few days.

Schedules to Appear

Starting in the Monday issue of The News, the schedules for both leagues will appear from day to day until they have been run in full. It is suggested that the players and managers clip these schedules as they are run and keep them with you at all times, so that you will know when your team is playing and where they are playing. The first half of the Industrial League schedule will be run on Monday night, watch for it.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

New Castle fans who travelled to see Pittsburgh defeat the Cardinals yesterday got a sight of "Had" Haid in action on the mound. He relieved Sherdel and hurled two innings during which time the Pirates didn't get a hit.

Battling Gizzy swung 'em from all angels last night and defeated Bobby Young in a 10 round bout at Pittsburgh. Gizzy's style was too much for Young who didn't know when he was or was not going to be hit.

Arch Cumo wants to send his lightweight French against Battling Terry's Tony Brush and it looks very much as though these local newcomers will get a chance to wallop each other in about a week.

John Van Ryn defeated Wilmer Alton in the final of the singles of the annual Mason, and Dixon net meet at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Van Ryn won 4-6, 7-5, 12-10, 6-1.

Leo Murphy, Youngstown, a Pitt football player who had his neck broken in spring football training, is reported slightly better by St. Francis, Pittsburgh hospital attendants. Some feeling has returned to his legs, it is said.

For the second time in two weeks Philly Griffin chalked up a decision over Maxie Strub. Last night the easterner won at Erie. They fought their first bout at Newark, N. J.

Bruce Caldwell, a first baseman property of the Cleveland Indians, has been sold to the Minneapolis team of the American association. He is a former Yale football star of 1927 and 1928.

Barney Berlinger, University of Pennsylvania, retained the Devotion crown by his performance at Philadelphia yesterday. He rolled up 7460.608 points compared to 7298.798 in 1928.

California having banned Primo Carnera, his bout with Bearcat Wright at Louisville has been called off and Commissioner Farley, New York state commission has intimated he will be banned from New York state rings.

The draw for the British women's golf championship was issued yesterday at London. The meet is to be held May 12 at Forbury. Glenna Colgate U. S. champion was among those who draw a bye and will play Kitt Beard in the second round.

The $5,000 Golden Jubilee handicap will be raced on Wheeling's half mile track today. The most costly field of thoroughbreds that ever ran on a half-mile track are entered. It will climax the Wheeling race meet.

Jackie King of Wampum arises to say that if Eddie Flick will give him another chance he will win in a fifty-round bout. King is a former champion turned the trick so it looks as though it is up to Mr. Flick.

Prisco Grande, Luis Carpentiero and Johnny Dato, a trio of Filipinos that pleased local fans, Tommy Palacio will be the fourth brown-skin to come here. The boys of the Fighting Tenth of 1928 can tell anyone about the Filipinos.

The commission, Farley said, had received the transcript of the evidence in the case of the Carnera-Chevalier bout on the coast and had decided to stand by the California commission's ruling.

The coast commission suspended the Giant Italian boxer and also revoked the license of his manager, Leon See, following the unsatisfactory ending of Primo's bout with Chevalier.

New Castle Will Have Heavy Line

Local Gridders Hold Scrimmage at Taggart Field Friday

Ferry Crisci, Askounes, and Schepp On Line Weigh Over 200

With only two weeks left until New Castle high engages Chaney high of Youngstown, O., in a spring night football game, Coach Bridenbaugh through daily workout has just about selected the boys who will represent the locals in the grid game on May 9 at Taggart field. On Friday afternoon the candidates were sent through a scrimmage.

On the first team were DeCarbo and Hoose at the guards, Deep and Crisci at the tackles, Jamison at center and in the backfield were Scous and McIvor at half, Fabian at full-back and Regis McAuley calling the signal for the temporary first team.

Coach Bridenbaugh tries out different candidates at different positions daily and in this way he makes sure he knows just what each griddy can do. Robert Hoose at guard, a backfield man last season, looks like a good prospect for his new position. "Bob" Jamison appears to have the center assignment snatched. "Regis" McAuley, last season's signal barker, will more than likely be seen in the night grid game with the first 11 men. Fred Fabian is being used at full-back. He is making a good showing at the backfield position. The half-back positions are still up in the air. Scous, McIvor and Nick Uram are battling it out for these positions.

Heavy Line.
So far it looks like the line will be heavy. With such gridders as Harry Crisci, who tips the beam over 200, and Perciles Askounes, whose weight is close to 230, it looks like it's going to take another heavy line to make holes through the wall. The local red and black eleven will present, George Deep, another veteran, will likely be seen at guard. He weighs around 175. This should give you an idea of what kind of a line the locals will present. Charles Schepp, who saw action last season, is making a hard night for one of the guard positions. His weight is over 200.

Merchants Meet In Chamber Of Commerce Friday To File
Protest With Service Commission

ELLWOOD CITY, April 26.—Twelve interested merchants of this city met in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters in the First National bank building Friday for the purpose of discussing the local freight rates and drawing up a formal complaint against the proposed 25 per cent increase on freight rates concerning iron and steel.

The complaint will be presented to the public service commission and a date for a hearing will be asked. It is thought that this will occur some time in May. In the meantime charts, data and other material will be prepared for presentation at the hearing.

The increase in rates would have a detrimental effect upon business in this section, inasmuch as it would not only increase the price of raw materials, but the finished iron and steel products as well, it is reported.

The chamber will file a formal protest with the commission and it was also decided that each individual shipper would file a similar protest.

The surrounding towns are doing the same, and the churches and schools will operate on the new time on Sunday and the following days. ## FROM TEE TO GREEN

By LOY GROVE

When we speak of style and form in golf we must also consider a certain amount of naturalness. That consideration applies to the beginner who seems to be learning fast. The alert student will notice his teacher is instructing one method and seemingly playing the course in a trifle different manner than he teaches. Nevertheless—"do as your teacher tells you."

There are many fine playing professionals today who take the liberty to step a bit off the line of teaching, to develop a theory. This leads to little tricks that help their own individual game. Tommy Armour is the modern example of the playing professional who dares to do many things, that others would not do, and still remain good enough to win a national open, as he did at Oakmont.

Armour is the most unorthodox of the professional field. He deliberately plays with the right foot back of the left.

St. Mary's Choir To Repeat Easter Music On Sunday

Will Be Presented At The 9:30 Mass Under Supervision Of Father
Clifford

FATHER NEE TO DELIVER SERMON

Easter program of church music rendered by the Junior and Senior male choirs of St. Mary's church will be repeated at the nine-thirty Mass Sunday morning. The sermon for Low Sunday will be delivered at the Mass by Rev. J. Dudley Nee.

Owing to the many favorable comments that were received by Rev. Father P. S. Clifford on the work of the choir on Easter Sunday in the presentation of the Missa Pontificalis, a most difficult composition, and the ambition of every choir director to have his choir present it, as it should be, it was decided to give the members of the parish, also the people of the city another opportunity of hearing it tomorrow morning.

As the name implies, the music of the Mass was composed by Perosi, organist of the Vatican, and its premier was given in the presence of the Holy Father.

Garth Edmundson, organist of the First Baptist church, will again preside at the rendition of the Mass on Sunday morning.

Rev. Father P. J. McKenna, pastor of St. Mary's church, Corner North and North Beaver streets, was pleased to notice that many people from his congregation took advantage of the invitation Easter Sunday to assist at the Mass and to hear the choir directed by Father Clifford. The public as well as the congregation will be welcome again on Sunday morning to hear this magnificent music, in connection with the celebration of Mass.

Slippery Rock Township Gains

Increase Of 241 Made In Population During Last Ten Years; Mahoning Shows Loss

Slippery Rock township gained 241 persons during the past ten years, the completed census returns from that district show, a gain of three farms being also recorded. Mahoning township showed a loss during the last ten years, both in population and a number of farms.

The figures for these two districts which were completed today are as follows:

Slippery Rock township—present population, 1536; number of farms, 222; population ten years ago, 1295; number of farms, 219.

Mahoning township—present population, 3372; number of farms, 127; population ten years ago, 3627; number of farms, 144. A loss of 235 in population and 17 farms is thus shown.

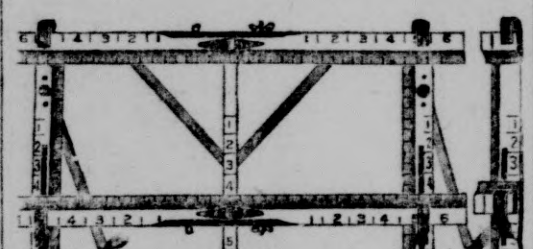

Hillsville borough, which is shown in the Mahoning township figures, has a present population of 1420. The census bureau had placed an estimate of 2,000 on the population. There are no figures showing the population ten years ago, so the gain or loss cannot be shown.

The enumerators for Mahoning township were Tony Navarre and Samuel Barlett. The enumerators for Slippery Rock township were C. L. Rodgers and Scott Kildoo.

New Castle Man Wins Damages

Edward Masters Wins $3000
Award In Butler County
Suit

BUTLER, April 26.—Compensation of $3,000 was awarded Edward Masters of New Castle and $2,500 to his wife, by a verdict returned by a jury in civil court Friday against M. E. Loutzenhiser of Girard, O.

The case grew out of an accident at the Eisler fruit stand on the Butler-Petersville road, October 7, 1928, when the machine driven by Master, a New Castle plumber and that operated by Loutzenhiser, Girard, O., contractor, collided, according to Master, although Loutzenhiser and his wife who was with him at the time, testified yesterday there was no collision between the two machines.

Master and his wife had testified that as they were coming toward Butler, Loutzenhiser, who had been following them, attempted to go around, and in doing so his machine collided with that of the plaintiffs, forcing it off the road with such force that it turned completely over and three members of the family were injured.

The action was brought by the Masters to recover compensation for personal injuries to Master, his wife and thirteen months old daughter for damage to their automobile, loss of time for both Master and his wife and for other expenses to which they had been put by reason of their injuries.

Loutzenhiser testified he left his home in Girard, O., at 3 p. m. The collision occurred at 9:45. He had followed the Master car about two miles and tried several times to pass it, but was prevented from doing so as the Master car was swaying from the edge to the center of the highway.

Finally, according to the witness, they approached a comparatively level stretch with wide berm on both sides of the pavement. He attempted to go around the Master car and as he did so Master speeded up, and for a time the two cars were proceeding abreast. At last he succeeded in passing.

He did not feel any impact, he testified and similar testimony was given by his wife, who followed him to the stand. They were the only defense witnesses. His first intimation there had been an accident was when his attention was called by his wife, and looking back he observed the Master car off the road.

Master denied that he at any time following the accident admitted responsibility for the wreck, as four plaintiff witnesses had testified the day before.

D. M. Boyd and LeRoy Norton, local school instructors, were visitors in Slippery Rock this morning.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things
Around New Castle

For the edification of the slightly goofy, or say the entertainment of those souls who have some idle time on their hands, there is a new toy on the market, by name the "Yo Yo." It may be of Chinese extraction or may go back to the early Hindustani. At any rate it is a flat affair with a slotted opening and a string tied to the end. The idea is to toss the Yo Yo out and have it wind up and unwind and the lad who can make it do the most tricks is a Yo-Yoer, or should we say a Yo-Yokel.

Down east, so the more travelled tell me, the Yo Yo has been the vogue for some time and has finally reached the hinterland. We get those outbreaks now and then. Perhaps you remember Mah Jong, with its East Wind and walls and the rest of it. Mah Jong died of malnutrition or ennui or something, and after the Yo Yo has a run it will probably die the same death.

But they really are tricky things to make behave.

Heard plenty of orchestras, bands and choruses yesterday when the Northwestern Pennsylvania Inter-scholastic Music Association (what a line) held its meet here. It must be well to be in school these days. You can learn to blow a saxophone or cure a sick carburetor, bake a cherry pie, or be a half back. The bother of finding the unknown X is lightened somewhat by being a baritone in the glee club, and the dry monotony of English 2 is colored somewhat by thoughts of the hundred yard dash.

With all the attractions of a modern school system, I sometimes marvel that any kid would want to play hooky. Especially if there was a chance of playing in a band that had some tricky uniforms.

After watching some of those really remarkable orchestras trot out their stuff yesterday I am thinking of taking up some instrument. Not a saxophone for the neighbors are rather free in their criticism. Not a bass drum for I live in an apartment. Not a tuba for a fellow would get hump backed trying to cart it around.

A fellow who is short one finger has no business trying a violin, and a specialist in basses are tricky things to carry around without crashing a chandelier. After considering all of them by and large, and larger, I have decided in favor of the triangle.

Now there's an instrument, and apparently the triangle or triangle list is the best for they only use him now and then. He sits down at the back of the orchestra for a while and about every four or five minutes he steps up and makes a pass at a three cornered rod of steel.

There are a number of advantages about a triangle. It doesn't get out of tune and it does you can straighten it out with a sledge. If you lose it, one of the steel mill blacksmiths can replace it with a tuyler rod bent into shape, and it certainly isn't a heavy thing to carry around.

A violinist may finish the number with his arm nearly paralyzed and his collar as wilted as a wash rag on Saturday night, but not the triangle player. Just where you get notes for a triangle I'm not so sure for there is only one, but as long as they have to have triangle players, I'm for it.

The meet was something New Castle can get chesty about. Over the results perhaps. The notes for the splendid manner in which the meet was run off. The visitors who had never seen the Cathedral were impressed, and the officials thought thing were handled in a might efficient manner.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Harmony Baptist church held their regular monthly meeting at the church Thursday. This meeting was to have been held at the parsonage but was changed on account of sickness. Quilting was the work of the day. A tureen dinner was served at noon. This being the first meeting of the new year, the reports of various departments of the work were given and in addition to the large amount of work done a nice balance was left in the treasury. On motion it was decided to retain the present officers for the ensuing year. Two new members were added to the roll. A pleasing feature of the day was the donation of a gas range for the church kitchen by a New Castle business man. This was very much appreciated.

The new residence being erected by R. F. Houk is almost ready for occupancy.
